by R Rodriguez Nunez A. 2021 - start and cant-overlap, which describe how key dynamic processes shift. (initiated) earlier or later in the simulation. The rudder ... and steering ... time series must be modeled in terms of time, not in terms of space. In contrast, a dynamic process is typically a time series that describes how dynamic variables are shifted. (initiated) earlier or later in the simulation. If we are talking about "processes", then we are talking about "dynamic processes" and not about "static processes". ... static processes are time independent.
